University PR director says:

USM to air Gulf Park financial probe today

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
University of Southern Mississippi officials today plan to release details of an investigation into "financial irregularities discovered" at the USM Gulf Park Campus in Long Beach.

Bud Kirkpatrick, USM public relations director, said Wednesday afternoon in Hattiesburg that "there were financial irregularities discovered" at the campus.

When asked if reports that funds were embezzled from the Long Beach university were correct, Kirkpatrick replied, "The amount and particulars are not available now, but they will be available tomorrow (Thursday)."

"We think it involves a sizable amount," Kirkpatrick said when asked if the money amount involved is large or small.

When queried whether an administrator or an employee was the subject of the investigation, Kirkpatrick stated, "I can't say right now if it is an employee or administrator."

"We are putting facts and information together right now," he said regarding a press conference today.

Kirkpatrick said USM would distribute information regarding the probe today to all local media at a 9 a.m. press conference in Hardy Hall at Gulf Park.

"If there's a problem, we don't want to prejudice anything or anybody. We also don't want to implicate anyone at this time," he explained regarding the sketchy information.

Earlier Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Joe Holloway, Gulf Park's dean, referred all questions regarding the probe to Kirkpatrick after conferring with Kirkpatrick by phone and Dr. Aubrey Lucas, USM president, also in Hattiesburg.

Holloway said he did not want to comment because his statements might jeopardize the investigation.

Safety official offers warnings, advice

Hancock fire season off to blazing start

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Fall brings cool dry weather to Hancock County, but these conditions also increase the frequency of fires here—particularly the structure type.

In the last three weeks alone, 10 Hancock fires have destroyed five houses and a trailer, and damaged another mobile home, a storage building and two businesses.

Causes of these fires include electrical wiring shorts, kitchen accidents and smoldering cigarette butts.

Ed Friloux of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department Arson Investigation Squad and Diamondhead fire safety administrator, notes that the fall results in a humidity decrease and steady cold northerly winds which evaporate summertime moisture from buildings, dry dormant weeds, and whip up flames quickly.

Another frequent cause of fires this time of year is faulty heating devices resulting from a lack of preventative maintenance, he says.

These devices include central gas or electric heating units, furnaces, space and water heaters, wood burning stoves and fireplaces.

Friloux said the heaters also cause moisture evaporation from structures which enhances the chance of fire fueled by dry cold air.

He notes many local residents have not yet lit or turned on heating devices, but warns they should take certain precautions before doing so.

"...thoroughly check heating appliances and clean air conditioning equipment before using them," Friloux states.

He says lint in heating and cooling equipment causes fires.

Gas or fluid-fueled appliances should be checked for leaks and electric device connections should be inspected, Friloux reports.

All flues and exhaust systems should be clear of any foreign matter, he says.

The safety administrator recommends that professional service personnel perform these tasks.

Regarding fireplaces, Friloux says these:

—Should be inspected twice annually for flammable creosote buildup;

—Brick devices should have a flue liner;

—Should be cleaned by a chimney sweep at least every five years;

—Should not have fires larger than the chimney can accommodate;

—Should have a spark screen and glass door so the owner can close it before retiring or leaving home;

—Should not have rugs in front of them;

—Should have a spark arrestor on top of the chimney to prevent fires on roofs and in nearby wooded areas.

Friloux recommends that electric hot water heaters be inspected twice annually to check wiring and overall condition.

He says gas models should also be inspected twice annually for black specks which fall on top of the device from the flue to find out if these result from rust or carbon.

The fire safety administrator reports some rust should be expected, but if a powdery carbon speck is found, this indicates the flue in the center of the heater is blocked and should be professionally cleaned.

"If not cleaned, flames will come out of the sides of the heater and set any nearby flammables on fire," he warns.

Friloux also says paper and oily rags should not be stored indoors and flammables or combustibles should not be placed near heating appliances.

"Use safety precautions with electrical appliances and never overload an outlet. Remember, if a fuse keeps blowing out or a circuit breaker keeps tripping, that's a warning sign to have a qualified electrician check the circuit," he states.

He adds that all electric plugs should be pushed completely into the socket or an electrical arc can occur which will set a wall on fire.

In reference to the accidental fires, Friloux says the National Fire Protection Association discovered based on its 1982 survey that the two principle causes of these blazes in the United States are "careless use of cigarettes" and "accidents involving heating and cooking appliances."

The survey also found that most fires occur during winter months late at night or early in the morning.

"These fires are the most severe because people are sleeping and the blaze usually gets a great deal of headway before it's discovered," Friloux states.

He reports the survey also revealed that 92 percent of all fire deaths occur at residences and more than 90 percent of those were between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m.

Friloux says the national association proposes:

—Development of a self-extinguishing cigarette;

—That citizens participate in Operation EDITH (exit drills in the home) in which every family member is familiarized with primary and secondary exits from the home and establish a central emergency meeting place outside buildings. He adds that local fire departments can provide residents with EDITH information;

—Installation of smoke detectors in homes.

The safety administrator personally recommends installation of heat detectors to warn home occupants before a fire grows.

He explains that accidental kitchen fires frequently start and spread after the room reaches a high temperature "flash point" which is usually not preceded by smoke.

After the entire room catches fire, extensive or total destruction of the house and loss of life can quickly occur, Friloux says.

But he noted heat detectors are still expensive compared to the cost of the smoke sensors.

Friloux also recommends installation of home sprinkler systems which can be installed over ceilings with plastic pipe, but this is also expensive.

Additionally, he advises professional application of furnishings, carpet and unfinished woodwork with a fire retardant chemical which is fairly expensive but effective.

But he warns the consumer to make sure the treatment:

—Passes NFPA test No. 701 and 253;

—Passes Underwriter Laboratories, Factory Mutual, Better Textiles and U.S. Fabrics tests and by what degree;

—Has a guaranteed lifetime certificate with listed restrictions.

"Even if a homeowner takes all these preventive measures, he can only be protected 90 percent from a fire occurring," Friloux states.

He notes that the 10 percent vulnerability is the result of flammable items such as paper and plastics which are accumulated over the years in homes.

The safety administrator says that one pound of burning paper produces 10,000 British Thermal Units, and an equal amount of combusting synthetics or plastics produces 22,000 BTUs.

He adds that a common plastic trash basket alone has the heat generating potential to burn a house down and produce enough poisonous smoke to asphyxiate every resident of the home.

Friloux strongly recommends the use of smoke detectors.

He notes that a burned down house can be a fire hazard is a fire hazard.

ANIMAL, VEGETABLE OR MINERAL?—At first glance these metallic green colored and black speckled oval objects might be mistaken for field stones or over-ripe avocados, but they are four emu eggs recently laid by Bacall owned by Judge Sanford Levy of Sandolan on Jourdan River. Mark Walker, Sandolan caretaker pointing out the eggs, says the bird recently began laying the eggs which unusual behavior in captivity. In addition, he says the curator of the Audubon Park Zoo in New Orleans reports the birds usually lay eggs between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Walker says the bird should lay 14 to 20 eggs at a rate of one every two days. Then the male emu, in this case Bogle, will incubate the eggs. The six-foot-tall non-flying Australian birds can run about 60-miles-per-hour. Last year The Sea Coast Echo reported that one of Levy's emus escaped and was thoughtlessly shot and killed. ### Lott to chair GOP Platform

Frank J. Fahrenkopf Jr., chairman of the Republican National Committee, said U.S. Rep. Trent Lott, R-Miss., is chairman of the Temporary Committee on Resolutions (Platform) for the 1984 Republican National Convention.

Lott will preside over a series of public hearings to be scheduled across the country in 1984. After the hearings are completed, Platform Committee members will make draft recommendations for the Republican Party Platform to be presented at the Convention in Dallas.

"I am hopeful these hearings will provide us with a wide range of viewpoints so that the final platform is one that any Republican will be proud of," said Fahrenkopf.

Lott, minority whip in the U.S. House of Representatives, served as co-chairman of the Platform Committee for the 1980 Republican National Convention. He is now in his sixth term in Congress.

"This is an excellent opportunity to work with the Administration and Republicans on a national basis to develop our party's agenda for America's future," said Lott. "My experience with Senator John Tower and the Platform Committee in 1980 was thoroughly enjoyable, and I am confident that this year's experience will be equally so."

HOW THE NEW HOSPITAL WILL BE FINANCED...

The construction of a new hospital for Hancock County has been much in the news lately. In order to clarify many points and questions being asked by the public, the Hancock

General Hospital Board of Trustees would like to take this means to answer some of these questions.

Did You Know

1. The replacement facility for Hancock General Hospital will be financed through tax exempt industrial revenue bonds. These bonds will be sold to individual investors through J.C. Bradford & Company of Nashville, Tennessee, investment bankers.
2. The Hancock County Board of Supervisors will authorize the sale of the bonds and the bonds will be repaid through taxes levied by Hancock General Hospital. The bonds will not be repaid by the county.
3. The industrial revenue bonds will have no effect on the tax base of the county, therefore, the project will not require an increase in property taxes.
4. The total cost of the new facility, which will have 60 beds and approximately 55,000-65,000 square feet, will cost an estimated $8-10 million. The debt will have a 25-30 year term.
5. According to a sensitivity study done in April, 1983, by J.C. Bradford & Company, the firm that is under contract to prepare the financial statements for the project, the project will be self-sustaining through 1985. Hancock General will be able to meet the increased payments of 24 cents an increase in the rate of 12 cents a year, which will produce a net income of $100,000 per year.
6. Ernest A. Murray III, Jr., former Chairman of the Board of Hancock General Hospital, is the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Hancock General Hospital.

City bond issue proposed

Engineer formulating costs for Waveland improvements

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The City of Waveland's engineering firm is preparing estimates for various public improvement projects which may be offered for consideration by voters in a general obligation bond issue referendum.

At a Tuesday night meeting, the Waveland Board of Aldermen asked Ray Eaton of Lewis-Eaton Partnership of Jackson to estimate costs of the projects.

Eaton was requested to formulate the estimates after he reported the cost of re-roofing the City Civic Center on Coleman Avenue is estimated at $55,000 and the same work on the older portion of the Waveland Library at about $7,500.

But the civic center work would generally include construction to change the existing built-up flat roof into a shingled gabled-end type roof utilizing prefabricated trusses, Eaton explained.

He said the gables would be enclosed with a prefinished vinyl siding.

A new process involving a relatively inexpensive "rubberized" membrane bonded to one-half inch board material was proposed by Eaton to be utilized to re-roof a small flat roof section of the center and older portion of the library.

Lucien Gex, city attorney, recommended that the city consider offering additional projects to voters if a bond issue was necessary due to the expense involved in such an undertaking.

Eaton said the interest rate on general obligation bonds to be repayed over a 25-year period is now at an annual 9.8 percent.

The aldermen asked Eaton to estimate the cost of purchasing land and developing a new city cemetery on Gulfside Drive, renovating the interior of the civic center, installing insulated doors and windows at City Hall, and enclosing Coleman Avenue ditches to provide more parking in the commercial area.

Eaton said some of the work might be eligible for federal funding which he would outline in his report at the next aldermen meeting.

Magistrate to decide city sewerage lawsuit

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
A U.S. Southern District Court magistrate is awaiting legal fact finding documents from attorneys representing the City of Waveland and Travelers Indemnity Co. to decide the outcome of a lawsuit involving the two entities.

Lucien Gex, city attorney, said Tuesday that U.S. Magistrate John Countiss in Jackson allowed 20 days for lawyers to formulate and submit the documents following an eight-day bench trial which ended Oct. 26.

Travelers, a bonding company, several years ago filed an approximate

$1.6 million lawsuit.

But the company is now seeking $500,000 from Waveland for liquidated damages and money retained when the city's sewerage was installed in the late 1960s, Gex explained.

The city attorney reported Travelers became responsible for the sewerage work after a construction company it bonded for the job went out of business and another firm was hired to complete the project.

Waveland then filed a $900,000 counter-suit charging that flaws in the system cited by engineers were not corrected and water infiltration into pipes exceeds the required limit, Gex said.

Christmas needlework demonstrations scheduled

Dedi Ballatin will demonstrate needlework Christmas ornaments at City-County Library on Nov. 8, 10, and 15.

The times and dates of each demonstration are:

—Nov. 8 from 1 to 2 p.m., chicken scratch; from 2 to 3 p.m., candlewicking.

—Nov. 10 from 1 to 2 p.m., trapunto quilted ornaments; from 2 to 3 p.m., crewel embroidered decorations.

—Nov. 15 from 1 to 2 p.m., cross stitch and from 2 to 3 p.m., needlepoint.

During each session participants will complete an ornament.

Cost of materials for each ornament is $2.

Interested persons can register by calling 467-5282.

Farm Borrowers meeting slated

FmHA farm borrowers interested in the federal court moratorium order on Mississippi farm foreclosures will meet Friday, Nov. 11, at Poplarville in the Pearl River Junior College Cafeteria at 7 p.m.

Information will be available on the foreclosure moratorium and the class action suit seeking an order to force the FmHA to release its security interest in farm proceeds.

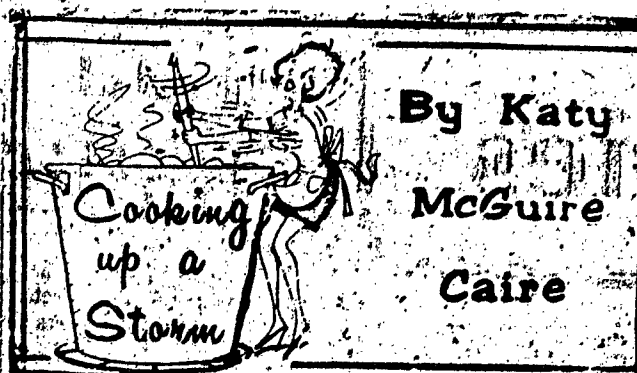

All farmers who borrow from the FmHA are urged to attend as this is the only meeting planned for the area. Equipment dealers and all farm supply businesses should send representatives because their successful future also depends on the results of the class action suit.

The suit was filed by five Mississippi farmers in federal court and resulted in a court order stopping foreclosures on 217 Mississippi farmers by FmHA.

Judge Keady will hear arguments in Greenville Federal Court on Jan. 10 and everyone should know how they will be affected by the outcome.

This meeting offers everyone an opportunity to have a voice in determining FmHA policies and actions that may determine the future of you, your family and your state.

How would you like to find a "Toad in a Hole" on your dinner table today? How's that for an "ugh-ugh" name for a tasty dish of meat in a batter overcoat, so beloved by the British?

It was around the turn of the century, I believe, that this dish gained such popularity in Britain... when cuts of round or other beef, steak, diced, were placed in a buttered casserole dish, covered with a batter, then baked.

Through the years, the original recipes have been changed here and there, as a tasty all-purpose mealtime favorite. I like very much the sausage version, "bangers" as the English call sausages. Here's:

TOAD IN THE HOLE

1 lb. small link sausages
1 cup milk
2 eggs
1 cup flour (all purpose)
1 Tbsp. butter, melted
Dash of pepper, salt, hot pepper sauce

Brown the sausages well, till the fat is rendered, then drain and place in a well-buttered casserole dish. Mix well the eggs, milk, flour, and seasonings, beating together as you would any batter - or blend for just a minute or so in a blender.

Pour the batter over the sausages, and bake in a 400 degree oven (uncovered) for about a half hour, or until the batter puffs up and crisps to a golden brown.

Some cooks like to use bulk sausage and ground beef in equal proportions... and I often "pep up" my Toad in the Hole further by adding more hot sauce, along with chopped green onions and green peppers.

With a green salad, this makes a quick tasty meal, for who wants to stay inside too long at the stove these glorious fall days we've been enjoying?

Jail not only used to house criminals

The Hancock County Jail is used to house others than just criminals.

Many of the people who are lodged in the local jail are only there for a few hours or days.

Take for instance, a person who has a mental problem. They have to be kept some place to protect them from themselves and the public.

Other persons housed at the jail include juveniles. Now we agree some are there because of being violators of the law, while others are the victims of circumstances.

During 1982, the Hancock County Jail housed 28 mental patients, and so far in 1983, 16 persons.

These people, through no fault of their own, had to have a safe place to stay from one to three days to be evaluated.

In order for a person to be committed to a hospital for treatment, they first must be evaluated by doctors, and then a hearing held.

After evaluation is completed, and if they are found to have some disturbance, they are most probably sent to either the East Mississippi State Hospital in Meridian, the State Hospital at Whitfield, or to the Veterans Hospital in Gulfport, according to Ronald Peterson, Hancock County sheriff.

Some juveniles are detained at the local jail because of family squabbles, they are run-a-ways, or because they are victims of child abuse.

Efforts by the Hancock County juvenile authorities are to keep youths from detention, but that is not always possible.

Some juveniles are kept only for a few hours, yet the current facilities are not the world's best.

Hancock County is in need of a new Criminal Justice Facility, and we hope all electors will weigh the pros and cons, if they do, we feel they will vote for the jail bond issue.

Quotables by Cuevas

The 1983 football regular high school football season ends with Friday night play.

The Bay High Tigers, sporting one of their best records we can recall, will host St. John.

Now St. John should be up for the Tigers, as they lost to a stubborn Vancleave last week.

The Tigers are riding high after defeating Hancock North Central and taking the county championship.

We are hoping the Tigers will defeat St. John, but in high school football, one never knows for sure.

We do know this, Snuffy Smith would like to see the stands full of Tiger fans Friday.

The Hawks of Hancock North Central will journey to play Pearl River Central, who defeated them by two points in a non-conference tilt the first game of the season.

This will be a conference game, and Irvin Favre, head coach at Hancock, should have his squad ready to give Pearl River a good go.

A few good bounces of the ball, as the old saying goes, could mean a victory for the Hawks.

The Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will travel to Vancleave Friday and try for an even record this season.

The Rocks took a hard fought victory over Pass Christian last week by the margin of one point.

Their record is 4-5 and Vernon Powell, head coach at Stanislaus, is hoping for a victory to even their record this season.

The Bulldogs were involved in a high scoring contest last week with St. John and were victorious, giving them a 4-1 record. They will be trying for a winning season against the Rocks.

Stanislaus or Vancleave could win this one with a few breaks, and we hope they go to the Rocks.

Across the bridge, Pass Christian's Pirates will journey to Long Beach for their annual contest with the Bearcats.

Long Beach should have the upper hand, as Pass Christian has been plagued with injuries this season as well as a small number of players.

We would like to see the Pirates pull one over the Bearcats to give them the momentum needed for next season.

The Hancock County Fair is underway through Saturday at the Fairgrounds on Longfellow Drive.

Among the events on Friday is a field day for school students from throughout the county. That night there will also be the judging of livestock.

We are in hopes everyone will take time to visit the fair and see the many events which take place.

Much effort has been made by residents of the county, both city and rural, to make this a good fair.

FREEDOM

"We cannot pick and choose where we will support freedom. We can only determine how."

—President Reagan, October 24, 1983

The expressions on the faces of the American medical students as they touched ground in South Carolina told the story well enough of why the United States took action on the island nation of Grenada.

In the sheer joy of reaching home and freedom once again, there were smiles of relief. Some students even knelt and kissed the ground.

Subsequent interviews with the students from St. George's Medical School left no doubt that they feared for their lives and personal safety as the government of Grenada disintegrated. The underlying threat came from a sustained buildup of Cuban troops and Soviet advisers and from a group of thugs which came to power through violence.

Lurking in the background was the very real potential for another hostage situation similar to the holding of Americans in Iran for 444 days in 1979, 1980 and 1981.

The Reagan administration decided not to take that chance. At the request of six Caribbean states and with their support, the U.S. took action to protect and evacuate Americans and to restore peace and public order in Grenada.

Here is a brief background on the events which led to this action:

On Oct. 19, Grenada's Prime Minister, Maurice Bishop, and several of his cabinet members were murdered by a handful of their former military associates.

A revolutionary military council took over the country and the only visible act of authority was imposition of a 24-hour, shoot-on-sight curfew.

The uncharacteristic brutality of events alarmed leaders of nearby islands in the Caribbean, who doubted the intentions of Cubans and Soviets who were ostensibly building a modern airport for commercial purposes.

The volatile situation caused serious concerns about the welfare of U.S. citizens in Grenada, mostly medical students and senior citizens who had found it impossible to leave.

The Organization of Eastern Caribbean States formally requested U.S. help in a collective security effort to restore peace and order. From accounts, the operation was successful.

As always in America, a difference of opinion surfaced in Congress over whether the U.S. should have taken the action. I think the action was an appropriate response to dangers to Americans on the island and to a threat posed by the communist-backed military buildup to other islands.

I suggested in remarks on the House floor that we cannot turn our back on country after country in our own hemisphere go communist. As President Reagan said, we don't always get to choose the site on which the next fight for freedom will take place.

But freedom is clearly something worth fighting for.

News from the Governor

ENERGY ASSISTANCE

Six important changes have been incorporated into the fiscal 1984 plan of the Low-Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) which began on Oct. 1.

LIHEAP now is a continuous program instead of being broken into heating and cooling segments. Under the former approach, one segment would be closed out before the other segment began. Persons now, with one exception, may apply at any time for assistance and not be concerned about opening and closing dates. The exception is a three-week period in which only handicapped or persons of at least 60 years of age may apply.

"Handicapped and older persons are our target groups," said Linda S. Harvey, acting director of the Governor's Office of Energy Assistance, "but our goal is to open LIHEAP to many more Mississippians in fiscal 1984."

Another change is elimination of the assets test which, in fiscal 1983, limited energy assistance to individuals with no more than $2,250 in total assets. "The assets test was disturbing to many because we were penalizing persons for saving to cover unexpected expenses such as medical bills," Ms. Harvey said. "We were discouraging people from doing something to help themselves."

The 1984 plan includes an exception to the one payment per year provisions of the 1983 plan. Now, in event of a presidentially or gubernatorially declared disaster, an individual can receive one regular LIHEAP payment and one disaster payment.

Another change is an increase of the maximum payment from $170 to $200.

Income guidelines in the 1984 plan have been changed to reflect February federal poverty definitions. An individual living alone, for example, could earn no more than $6,075 to be eligible for LIHEAP assistance. A family of four could have a household income of no more than $12,375. Under the fiscal 1983 plan, the maximum for one individual was $11,625.

Residents of federally subsidized housing are again eligible for LIHEAP assistance under the fiscal 1984 plan. They were excluded in the fiscal 1983 plan.

Estimated LIHEAP funding for fiscal 1984 is $14.5 million, the same as in fiscal 1983.

"The 1984 plan recognizes that the need for energy assistance goes far beyond the limitations previously imposed," Ms. Harvey said. "In the fiscal 1983, many households had energy assistance needs, but they could not meet our qualifications.

"Our administrative costs will be slightly lowered because of LIHEAP being a continuous program instead of being broken into the two segments with the starting and closing costs for each," she said.

"I believe that the fiscal 1984 plan will enable us to be far more effective," Ms. Harvey said, "in meeting the needs of Mississippi's low-income homes."

Prior to submitting the 1984 plan to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, it was made available for inspection at local departments of public welfare and offices of charity, health and human services block grant advisory board for their review and comment, and, during July, the plan was made available to the general public via three public hearings in Jackson, Hattiesburg and Grenada.

The Governor's Office of Energy Assistance is coordinating its activities under the program with similar and related programs administered by the federal and state governments, particularly programs administered by community action agencies, the Social Security Administration and the Department of Energy funded Low Income Weatherization Assistance programs. A referral system has been established to receive referrals from and make referrals to other agencies.

Already existing community action agencies are, so far as possible, administering LIHEAP in their areas. Rankin County and Vicksburg are administering the program in their areas. "These agencies, Rankin County and Vicksburg, have service delivery systems in place and have the local contacts that are necessary to carry out a program of this magnitude," Ms. Harvey said. "If any of these agencies are unable to fulfill the requirements of the program, special consideration will be given to using other community based type organizations."

"The primary criteria in choosing agencies to carry out the program," she said, "are just past delivery performance, present delivery mechanisms, overall capability to serve the area in a timely and efficient manner and a satisfactory assessment by the Governor's Office of Community Services."

Additional information on LIHEAP may be obtained from the Governor's Office of Energy Assistance by dialing 861-4740 or the Governor's Service Line by dialing, toll-free, 1-800-222-7822.

People tend to litter where litter has already accumulated. Throwing trash from an automobile—be it a glass bottle, a metal container, or paper products—is like saying to someone else: throw yours, it's alright.

KUBLER-ROSS
"Nova" presents a documentary film on Dr. Elizabeth Kubler-Ross, the Swiss-born psychiatrist who has become a legend in her time for her work with the dying.

"To Live Until You Die: The Work of Elizabeth Kubler-Ross" will be presented on "Nova" at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 8, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

The program explores her views on medicine, society and the American phobia of death.

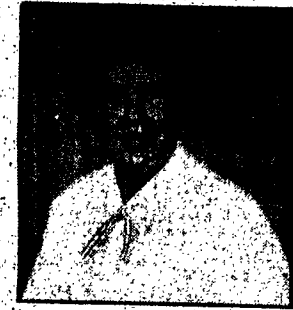

"Death," she says, "is the last taboo. We hide wrinkles with plastic surgery and in old-age homes. We cover a grave site with artificial grass and corpses with make-up. It's all completely phoney."

Once again I come before you the people of Beat One to thank you for your patience and understanding during the past elections and ask for your continuing support and vote on Nov. 8th.

Having already put before you my qualifications, experience and accomplishments, I now wish to give you a few examples of the proposals I have taken a stand on.

1. I objected to the original Wet Lands Act and attended all hearings pertaining to such.
2. I made the motion to file an objection to the Federal Insurance Commission resulting in lower elevation which is now going into effect.
3. I recently entertained a motion unanimous by the Board of Supervisors to put the Beach Road back on the Federal State Aid System.
4. REMEMBER too that I objected to "our hospital" being built in an area that is not a central location to both municipalities and county.

Thank you for your consideration and I look forward to continuing serving you as your Beat One Supervisor.

Thank You,

HNC blood drive collects 81 units

By Rance Necaise
HNC Student Council Reporter

The Blood Drive at HNC Oct. 4 saw 81 pints of blood collected.

The drive was sponsored by the HNC Student Council.

There were many people who donated their time and blood so that someone else might live longer.

Though we appreciated them trying, there were some people who could not give blood for various reasons.

Members of the Student Council helped the Red Cross with various jobs.

Patti Moran, the blood drive committee chairman, organized and helped to make the drive successful.

Because of her participation in the drive, Moran deserves most of the credit for the drive being successful.

The members of the Student Council that helped with the drive include Patti Moran, chairman; Lenny Lander, Roy Cuevas, Joe Ben Gregory, Bill Johnson, Rance Necaise, Melissa Evert, Melissa Aime, Pam Ladner, and Connie Henry.

Also, Lynn Necaise, Judy Brown, Tammy Ladner, Gina Funck, Jeff Bohnel, Tony Guidry, Denise Mendoza and DuJuan Griffin.

The members of the Red Cross who helped include Sandy Grant, Anna Semczuk and Patsy Smith, nurses; and Richard Carter, Eugene Nelson, Jo Murdock and Pam Pace, technicians.

The Student Council would like to thank everyone who helped with the blood drive and everyone who donated blood.

The HNC Junior Beta Club which was chartered in 1981 has just completed a successful fund raising project to finance its year's activities and help pay for a field trip in the spring of '84.

endeavor to share our appreciation of our school and teachers by contributing some tangible gifts to the Junior High School. In 1981-82 we presented a trophy case to the Junior High office; in 1981-83 an enclosed bulletin board was put in the hall. Already this year we have donated $100 to the new ETV Program in our library.

We hope to be of additional service to our school and teachers as the year progresses.

TEACHER OF THE WEEK

This week's Teacher of the Week is in fact a great teacher, though at HNC she is our librarian Mrs. Barbara White.

She is currently living in Bay St. Louis.

Mrs. White is originally from Birmingham, Ala. She graduated from Shades Valley High School in Alabama.

Mrs. White is a sponsor of the Student Council and the Senior Class. She is responsible for doubling the number of books in the library in just three years. Her hobbies are reading, knitting, needlepoint, gardening, and playing bridge.

Mrs. White has been at HNC for three years. She has been in the teaching profession for 18 years, including her time at HNC.

Mrs. White attended the University of Alabama for four years. While at the university she majored in school librarianship and received her Bachelor of Arts degree in education.

Mrs. White said that she likes her work as a librarian. She also said that she likes everyone at HNC and thinks that it is one of the best places that she has ever been.

The Student Body at HNC hopes that Mrs. White will continue at HNC for many years to come. We know that she will keep up the good work that she is doing at HNC.

Tesnohlidek's story portrays a world of not-so-innocent animals living out their short-lived lives in harmonious brutality alongside a world of humans who are, no less brutal, scarcely more intelligent and a good deal less happy.

SBA loan deadline nears for January flood aid

Jack Spradling of Jackson, district director for the Small Business Administration (SBA), said Nov. 16 is the last day small businesses in Hancock and Harrison Counties in the state of Mississippi may file for EIDL assistance as a result of severe storms, high winds, heavy rains, tidal action and flooding which occurred Jan. 19-20, 1983.

Small business concerns may make application for assistance from SBA under the Economic Injury Disaster Loan Program (EIDL). If as a direct result of the incident economic injury was sustained.

These loans are limited to small businesses only as defined by SBA using the Standard Industrial Classification Code, and are made only to provide relief from economic injury caused directly by this disaster.

According to Spradling, "SBA cannot authorize the refinancing of long-term debts nor provide working capital which was needed prior to the disaster.

Businesses must be able to furnish balance sheets and operating statements so that SBA may compare results preceding the disaster with those since and during the disaster period. No assistance is available to a business which is able to obtain credit elsewhere.

EIDL assistance to businesses is limited to a maximum of $500,000, however, the actual amount of the loan will be based upon the actual economic injury. The maturity of these loans will depend upon the ability of the business to repay the loan, but not to exceed thirty (30) years. The interest rate will be 8 percent.

To obtain an application or additional information, contact the nearest SBA office of the SBA Disaster Assistance Office, 75 Spring Street, SW, Atlanta, Georgia 30303, telephone (404) 211-5854. The office hours for the Atlanta SBA Disaster Office are 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., EST, Monday through Friday.

Applications mailed must be postmarked on or before the deadline for filing, Nov. 16.

Alden Moran fined $8,500, put on 3-year probation

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Alden Moran of Waveland pled guilty Tuesday in Gulfport to possession of cocaine, was fined $8,500 and placed on probation for three years.

Alden and Jimmy Capdeboscq of Lafayette, La. were arrested on drug charges in September 1982 following a surveillance of Quality II, Moran's pharmacy in Bay St. Louis, by Hancock County Sheriff's Department staff.

Trials for the men were set for Hancock County Circuit Court last week but moved to Gulfport when one of the defense attorneys was unavailable.

According to Harrison County Circuit Clerk Webb Lee, the two men pled guilty to a reduced charge of possession.

Originally, they had been charged with sale of a controlled substance.

With the reduced charge, Circuit Court Judge J. Ruble Griffin was able to grant non-adjudication of guilt.

By non-adjudicating the cases, Griffin will be able to impose stiffer sentences if the men violate the terms of their probation.

Moran paid $7,500 of his fine on Nov. 1, with the remainder to be paid by Feb.

6, 1984.

Capdeboscq is to pay $7,500 by Nov. 14, and the balance by Feb. 6.

The fines will be paid to Hancock County.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said he was not surprised that the district attorney's office recommended the reduction of charges, but said he felt the fines should have been higher.

He also questioned the non-adjudication of guilt.

Peterson said the biggest crime problems in Hancock County are illegal drugs and burglaries, and that burglaries are often related to drug use and abuse.

Peterson did note that statistics show the burglary rate on the Gulf Coast is lowest in Hancock County, Pascagoula and Moss Point.

"Our judges," he said, are aware of the problem and have been giving out more stringent sentences.

"And we've been fairly successful in apprehending people that have been committing burglaries," he added.

The dog's owners placed the dog at the shelter because they did not have a fenced yard to contain the animal. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Smoldering cigarette butt cited in Bay fire

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

A smoldering cigarette butt is cited as cause of a Bay St. Louis fire which gutted a storage building near a residence.

Chief Andrew Lizana of the Bay Fire Department reported Friday that the blaze, reported at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, was near the home in a storage building of Harold Bordages at 207 Chartres St.

Firefighters Maurice Farve and Jim Gaudet responded to the call to find the wooden structure 'fully involved in flames,' Lizana said.

The firefighters extinguished the fire in a matter of minutes and saved the exterior of the building, but all of its contents including a clothes washer and dryer were destroyed, Lizana reported.

He said the firefighters returned to the fire station by 10:10 a.m. after cooling smoldering items inside the building.

'The fire's origin was a cigarette butt,' Lizana stated.

31 REASONS WHY

There are 31 paired spinal nerves coming from the spinal cord and passing between the spinal bones of the back. These nerves branch off and go to every organ of the body. These nerves carry and transmit the energy that causes function and motion of body organs. The spinal column, composed of 31 different segments of bone, is daily subjected to all kinds of various stresses, such as twisting, falling, walking, etc. A slight displacement of just one of these spinal bones can pinch a nerve, causing or blocking the carrying capacity of nerve energy. When the organ supplied by the pinched nerve begins to malfunction, a condition of this nature can bring about adverse effects within the body. It may be that there is only one nerve or one muscle to why you are sick, but then again there may be 31 nerves. You can find out for certain with a Chiropractic examination.

Would you ask even the best seamstress to be your family surgeon? Would you ask a master plumber to be the principal of our high school? Should we then ask anyone but a qualified person to be a judge for our county?

The training of a lawyer is the result of 19 years of formal education before taking the Bar Examination, and still some fail the examination.

Every judge should be trained in legal matters. He should be professional. Citizens required to appear before a court of law deserve no less. The court system of the county deserves the best legal minds available to render an immediate just and fair judgement. It is less expensive for the individual and the county than an appeal process due to ignorance of the law or legal process.

I have been involved with cases all over the country helping other people. I am now back home and want to serve the people of Hancock County. Do you want me? Are you ready? ..... I am.

A native of Hattiesburg, Mrs. Haas has lived in Bay St. Louis for more than 20 years. The mother of four children, she holds a bachelor's degree in library science from the University of Southern Mississippi and a real estate broker's license in the state of Mississippi.

She has held library positions in school, public, and special libraries and served on the library board from 1967 to 1976. She is presently associated with Nell Frisbie Realty.

"I have seen tremendous progress made by the library system over the past years and I look forward to working for continued expansion of library and information services to Hancock Countians," said Haas.

Also serving on the five-member board which by state law is charged with the overall governance of the library system are George Bensabat, immediate past-chairman; Jeannette Purchner, and L. J. Breaux.

PLEASE GET ME OUT OF HERE—Puss-and-Boots is the name of this young tabby tomcat now at the Hancock County Animal Shelter on Gulfside Drive in Waveland. The handsome cat will soon be painlessly destroyed unless it is adopted by a good home through the Bay-Waveland Humane Society by telephoning 467-0475. The shelter also has a variety of kittens needing homes which may be adopted by calling the humane society volunteer at the number listed. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Pass Pirates to battle arch-rival Friday night

By WAYNE DUCOMBE JR.

The Pass Christian High School Pirates will battle their arch-rival, the Long Beach High School Bearcats, Friday night in Lance Lumpkin Stadium in that city.

Both teams have experienced losing seasons—the Pass is 2-7 and the Bearcats are 1-8.

Long Beach is a larger school with more players than Pass Christian, but virtually the same situation existed last year when the Pirates defeated the Bearcats, 21-20.

in the closing minutes of that exciting rival contest.

The game will mark the end of Pass High's 1983 grid season in which the Pirates' relatively small squad was hampered by numerous injuries and a lack of substitute players.

However, the team's line directed by Assistant Coach Larry McGill has held together strong all season and in fact Head Coach Kenneth McKinney has dubbed the squad "the mainstay" of the Pirates.

McKinney Tuesday stated, "The biggest thing we're trying to do is keep being ourselves. We're just fighting to stay alive."

Regarding the Long Beach team, the head coach said, "They throw the ball a whole lot, but just like us they're fighting for their life. They've got a pretty good football team."

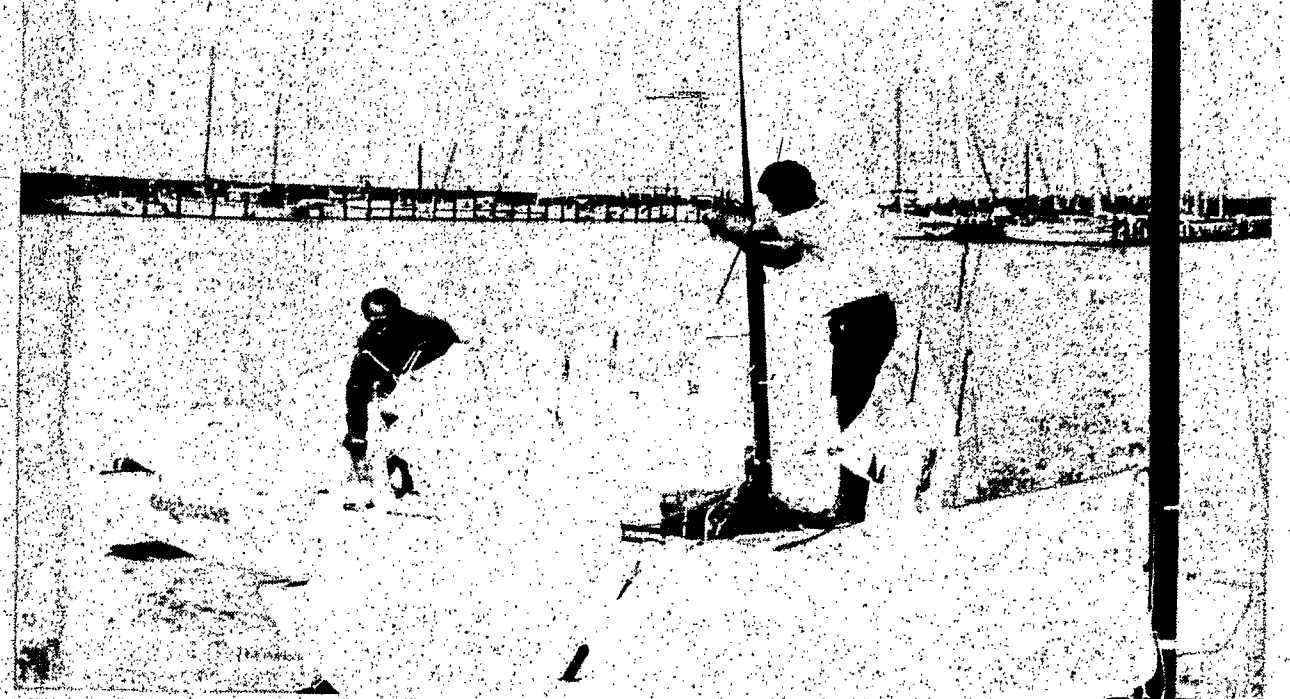

McKinney reported the Pirates played their best game of the season last week in which they lost 7-6 to the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws in Bay St. Louis.

The head coach said injuries continue to plague the Pirates and although they are few in number he has dismissed several players who the Pass mentor has labeled as "bad attitudes."

"We've just about eliminated all the bad attitudes on the team," McKinney stated.

Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.

READY FOR FROSTBITE REGATTA are Buddy Friedrichs and Chris Christman, both of New Orleans. Pass Christian Yacht Club's 25th annual Frostbite Regatta was held last weekend with races from New Orleans and Gulfport Friday followed by races in Pass Christian Saturday and Sunday.

Some 50 boating enthusiasts participated. According to regatta chairman Chuck Taylor the club, formed in 1949, is the second oldest in the nation. Asked how often it "frosted" for the Frostbite Regatta, Taylor said one year it "came close." (Staff photo by Nan Patton Ehrbright)

SWOOPING HAWK—Hancock North Central Quarterback Melton Lewis (14) swoops down on Bay High's Eddie Nelson to snatch an interception near the Hawk goal line Friday. The Hawks, who were edged by the Tigers 19-14, will meet Pearl River Central this week in Carriere in a contest crucial to the Deep South Conference standings. A Hawk victory in the neighboring county could throw the conference race into a three-way tie with PRC, HNC and Bay High. (Staff photo by Randy Ponder)

Young Hawks accept Mullet Bowl

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock North Central Hawks Ninth Graders have accepted a bid to play in the annual Mullet Bowl at Bay High Tiger Stadium Thursday, Nov. 10, according to Joe Shaw, HNC coach.

The Hawks accepted the bowl bid after defeating Bay High Ninth Graders 8-6 in a defensive struggle last Thursday in Tiger stadium.

Bay High scored in the first quarter on a pass from Quinton Bell to Robert Hargett. A try for a two-point conversion failed.

Hancock scored in the second quarter on a six yard run by Charles Burton. Burton also added a two-point conversion giving the Hawks an 8-6 lead.

The Hawks had scored a touchdown in the first quarter only to have it called back for an infraction.

Brett Favre and Troy Wickton intercepted passes to stop two Tiger drives. Bay High's Brian Laneaux intercepted a Hawk pass in the defensive battle.

The Hawks are 7-1 for the season and 4-0 in the Deep South Conference's ninth grade bracket.

Sports Brief

OYSTER TONGING

The Mississippi Commission on Wildlife Conservation has ordered the oyster tonging season in Mississippi waters to open at sunrise on Nov. 1, 1983.

The Bureau of Marine Resources will open only the following reefs:

*Bayou Cumbest, south of its confluence with Crooked Bayou in Jackson County.

*Bangs Lake in Jackson County.

*Heron Bayou in Jackson County.

*Rigoletts in Jackson County.

A daily possession limit of three oysters per person will be imposed. Oyster size not less than 3 1/2 inches may be taken.

Burton's eight points runs his season scoring to 90 points, tops in the conference.

Tonight the Hawk Ninth Graders will play Pearl River Central at Hawk Stadium with a 7 p.m. kickoff.

Pearl River defeated the Hawks in their first game of the season which was played on an open date.

Shaw said, "The game on Thursday, (tonight) will be for the Deep South Conference championship for ninth graders. We lost our first game of the season to Pearl River, but it was not a conference game."

"The young Hawks have won seven games in a row, and we want to keep the string of victories going," Shaw added.

Shaw indicated this year's team is the best he has seen at Hancock North Central since he has been there.

Pearl River's record is 5-3 overall and 3-1 in conference. Shaw reported no opponent has been named as yet for the bowl game next week.

The Hawk Ninth Graders also received a bid to play in St. Martin's Bowl.

"We selected the Mullet Bowl because it is closer to home and we should get good fan support from Hancock County," Shaw allowed.

Crab Bowl to feature Bulldog-Eagle rematch

The 12th annual Crab Bowl at Gulfview Elementary School in Lakeshore Saturday will feature a rematch between the St. John Eagles and the Gulfview Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs will be seeking to even the score against the undefeated eagles for a 22-8 defeat earlier in the season.

That loss to the Eagles is the only blemish on the 1983 Bulldogs' record. The canines will bring an 8-1 total into the post-season event.

Curtis Thaxton, Gulfview coach, said kickoff will be at 7 p.m.

The event is sponsored by the Gulfview Booster Club.

Jerry Rushing is coach of the St. John seventh and eighth graders.

Memphis State favored over Bulldogs Saturday

Mississippi State's final on-campus appearance for 25 members of the senior class and a classic Mid-South rivalry highlight the Bulldogs' meeting Saturday with the Memphis State Tigers.

The 1:30 p.m. encounter at Scott Field marks the 22nd meeting of the Bulldogs and Tigers, who have faced each other continuously since 1974.

Both Coach Emory Bellard's Bulldogs and Coach Rex Dockery's Tigers are anxious for a triumph in the Southeastern Conference vs. independent matchup, for which tickets are still available.

Mississippi State, 2-6 overall, is coming off a nightmarish last six games, which have included five teams with Top 11 or higher credentials in this year's Associated Press survey at one time or another.

Memphis State, 3-4 on the campaign, has already compiled its most wins since the 1979 season when the Tigers closed at 5-6. Dockery's crew is anxious to meet its fourth SEC foe of the year.

The Tigers have already kayoed Mississippi 37-17 in Memphis and Vanderbilt 24-7 in Nashville while losing to Alabama 44-13 in Tuscaloosa. Three of their final four contests must be played on the road.

On the other hand, the Bulldogs are returning from road losses to Auburn, 26-13 and Alabama 35-14, but the home-standing team Saturday has continued to get better ball movement each week against quality opposition.

Last Saturday against Bama the Bulldogs rolled up 403 yards on 74 plays as senior quarterback John Bond of Valdosta, Ga., connected on 18 of 30 passes for 217 yards and rushed for eight more net yards.

That season-high total offense output of 225 yards edged the MSU standout within eight net rushing yards of becoming the second player in NCAA history to rush for 2,000 yards in a career. Prince McJunkins (2,047 rushing/4,544 passing) of Wichita State was the first in a 1979-82 career.

Bond enters the Memphis State-MSU fracas with 1,992 career yards rushing and 4,302 yards passing for 6,294 career total offense yards—a Mississippi State record and the sixth-highest performance in SEC annals.

The Bulldogs also look for hard-hitting performances from linebackers Calvin Zanders of Clarksdale and Billy Jackson of Plant City, Fla. The two seniors have combined for 251 total stops in eight games, and Zanders leads the team with 80 primary stops.

and 69 assists for 129 total hits. Mississippi State's scoring output has increased in each of its last three games, and the Bulldogs hope to continue the ball control which enabled the team to have four more minutes of possession time (32:26) against Alabama in Tuscaloosa last weekend.

Humphrey Coliseum ticket windows are open from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. (CST) daily, and telephone orders may be placed by contacting (AC 601) 325-2800.

MSU golfers closing '83 fall season

Coach Gary Meredith's Mississippi State golf team, buoyed by a pair of tournament championships this fall, rounds out '83 action with an appearance in the 54-hole Dixie Intercollegiate at Bull Creek Country Club Friday through Sunday, Nov. 4-6.

State scored a 14-stroke triumph over runnerup Baylor in the USM-Boardwater Beach Invitational last week and hopes to keep that momentum as it takes on a field spiced with Southeastern Conference and top independent competition.

It will be a homecoming for MSU's Hugh Royer III, winner of the Mississippi Intercollegiate and third-place finisher in the USMBBI. Royer's father, former PGA and Ryder Cup standout Hugh Royer Jr., is the club pro at Bull Creek.

And Meredith, who has not yet named his travel squad, is hopeful as his five-man entry prepares for the 19-team (possibly more to be added later in the week) test.

"Last week we just had one of the finest team efforts we have had since I've been at State (1979 onward)," said the Bulldogs' links coach. "The scores ranged from 218 to 226, and the player with the 226 (Scott Gilreath) had the low round of the final day of the tournament with a 73."

State must shift into a higher competitive gear as it returns to the site of the '82 Dixie Intercollegiate where the Bulldogs bagged fifth place out of 24 quality college teams. Royer was sixth at the DI a year ago with a 216 in medal play.

Among the long-hitting and talented team pursuants of the title will be SEC squads Alabama, Auburn, Tennessee, Mississippi, and the Bulldogs.

Rock-A-Chaws look to even season record

By ELLIS CUEVAS
The Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will journey to Vancleave Friday night hoping to even their season record, according to Vernon Powell, head coach.

Powell said, "Vancleave and St. Stanislaus are pretty evenly matched and even with records this year. The Rocks are 4-5 and the Bulldogs 4-1."

"I know we haven't beaten Vancleave in quite a few years, and we are hoping for a victory Friday night," Powell added.

Two Rocks tackles will be out of action against Vancleave.

"We have several substitute players who have been playing good ball filling in for injured players. They are getting good experience for next season," Powell stated.

Vancleave has one back with nearly 900 yards rushing this year, so the running game of the Bulldogs concerns Powell.

Powell is hoping to have a large crowd of Rock-A-Chaw supporters in the stadium for the game against Vancleave.

QUEEN CONTESTANTS for the ninth annual Wendell Ladner Bowl are, from left, junior Lana Ladner, junior Kim Webber and senior Paula Manale. One of the three will be chosen queen at 7 p.m. on Nov. 12 at Hancock North Central High School. The Bowl is named for Wendell Ladner, who was a professional basketball player for the New York Mets. Lana Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland W. Ladner, is president of the Future Homemakers of America club. Ms. Webber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Webber, is a member of the Journalism club and plans to pursue a career in journalism. Ms. Manale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Neelise, belongs to Beta Club and plans to become a nurse.

Soccer league slams picture day

As the Fall season continues it is apparent that the quality of soccer being played is improving based upon the results of this past weekend.

In the Under 8 Division Coca Cola managed to maintain its unblemished record with a narrow 1-0 decision over previously unbeaten Nell Friesbie Realtors. Winless Specialty Metal played well against Gateway Body Shop before succumbing via a 2-0 score. Hancock Bank had a bye.

In the Under 10 Division in a repeat match Hancock General Hospital and Thomas Murphree, D.D.S. played to a scoreless tie. The girls of Dillmann Roofing, although still looking for their first goal, held Sirlin Stockade to a 4-0 win due to some fine goalkeeping. In the only lopsided game Loiacano's Health Spa dominated McDonald Realty 6-0. Bernard Construction held highly favored McDonald's Restaurant to one goal, but were unable to score one of its own, bowing 1-0.

In the Under 12 Division after two straight weeks of ties, there were some clear winners. Parker's Hardware and Edmond Fahey Funeral Home played a seesaw game with the edge finally going to Edmond Fahey 3-2. Then Dental Health Service squeaked by Pat's Chevron 2-0.

In the Under 14 Division Gulf Coast Waste finally got the upper hand on Bay-Waveland Tire with a 3-1 win. In the Girls Division Sports World scored its first goals of the season by Shannon O'Brien and Krissy Erickson, but it was too little too late to overcome an early 3-0 lead by Slidell. Despite aggressive goalkeeping by Missy Duncan and fine defensive play by Dana Wheeler, there was one super player on the Slidell team who was almost unstoppable, scoring three goals and setting up a fourth—the final being 4-2 in favor of the visitors.

On Sunday Dental Health Service took on Hancock Bank (Select) and scored early on a penalty kick. But Hancock asserted itself thereafter to garner a 6-1 decision. Hancock Bank had played a tough doubleheader on Saturday against its Gulfport counterpart. The games were bruising, hard-fought games which were finally won by Gulfport 5-3 and 4-3. However, Hancock Bank gained Gulfport's respect since the winning goal in the second was scored with only seconds remaining in the game. Coach Jo-Ann Duncan was pleased with the team's improvement against Gulfport.

Alcan Cable hosted Slidell in another exciting game on Sunday. Tod Thriffley provided the offensive fireworks for the home team as Alcan jumped off to a 3-0 lead. But Slidell fought back to narrow the margin. The final was 5-4 with Tod scoring all the goals thanks to his speed and tenacity. Coach Bowles remarked that Tod provides the speed in the forward line that the team had lacked in the past.

The Black Tornadoes did not fare so well against its Slidell counterpart as the visitors won easily 13-1. The bright spot was the scoring of its first goal by Jenie Carver on assist by Anna Maria Scafidi.

People, wildlife basic needs to live coincide

By TINA SCARBROUGH
Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

Doubling population, expanding cities, flourishing industries and growing technology are causing at least one thing to decrease.

Wildlife habitat in Mississippi is diminishing and young people enrolled in a 4-H Ecology program in the southern part of the state are learning a few things they can do to remedy the situation.

"Deer have the same basic needs as people," said Dr. Ross (Skip) Shelton, a wildlife specialist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"They need food, water, shelter and space just like we do. As our space increases by cutting down trees for houses and buildings, deer space decreases."

The 4-H'ers learned from Shelton ways to give deer space and still enjoy the outdoors themselves.

If a campsite is left as close as possible to how it was found, deer can continue using the area, but trees cut only in one place instead of different areas, force deer to find other woods.

Trees do have to be cut at times and the 4-H'ers in the workshop cut a few to build a lean-to. Although most 4-H'ers hardly considered lean-to living as ideal conditions, they learned how they might need to know how to build one.

For those who are lost in the woods or simply forget tents on a camping trip, lean-tos meet an important need and provide yet another example of what people and wildlife have in common. Both need shelter.

"People usually come into the woods for a night or two but animals have to stay there," said Covington County Extension Agent Fred Baker, who taught an outdoor camping workshop.

The 4-H'ers also learned how to put up a tent and the importance of site selection. Baker told the group to look up and look down when choosing a site.

"Look up for dead tree limbs that might fall on the tent and look down for dry ground," he said. "You want to select ground that is dry at the moment and will stay dry until the next day."

Shelter and space aren't of much use to either deer or people if there isn't food and water.

"While you were eating eggs, bacon and toast for breakfast, deer were maybe eating honeysuckle, acorns and crops," Shelton told the 4-H'ers.

Although most of the 4-H'ers ate their breakfast in the dining hall, a few ate theirs from a paper bag in the woods.

During the outdoor cookery part of the program, 4-H'ers learned to cook bacon and eggs without a pan.

The bacon is placed in the bottom of a brown paper bag and the eggs are put on top of the bacon. The bag is closed, speared with a stick and held over the fire until done.

While people usually get their water from a faucet, deer must get their daily supply of water off leaves or from ponds or streams. These bodies of water are important to deer for survival and provide habitat for another form of wildlife called fish.

Although people can't move the ocean to build a city, they harm fish in other ways like pollution.

"We use tin for food, paint, glue, recreation and employment," said Nita Ferguson with the Marine Education Center in Biloxi. "If fish provide us with all this, we should make sure they are around for awhile."

Mississippi bald eagle count increases 42%

The endangered bald eagle is showing strong signs of recovery after years on the decline, including a 42 percent increase last year in Mississippi, according to the results of the National Wildlife Federation's 1983 Bald Eagle Survey.

This year's survey, taken from January 2 to 17, counted 12,098 bald eagles in 46 states, about the same as last year's count. In 1979, the Federation's first survey counted 9,815 bald eagles.

"It's encouraging that bald eagles may be finally recovering from the grave threats of pesticides, habitat loss and illegal killings," said Jay D. Hair, NWF Executive Vice President. Hair noted that there remain major threats to the nation's symbol.

The bald eagle is officially endangered in 43 states and threatened in five others. Only in Alaska is the bald eagle plentiful. (There are none in Hawaii).

After a drastic decline in the 1960s due to pesticides and dwindling habitat, bald eagle populations in some areas are beginning to make a comeback, according to the Federation's raptor biologists. Considered to be the most complete midwinter bald eagle count available, the National Wildlife Federation survey provides eagle experts with data on where the birds live during the winter and the habitat they need to survive.

Brian Millsap, National Wildlife Federation raptor biologist and coordinator of the survey, said that this year's unusually mild weather in the eastern U.S. apparently resulted in many northern states having higher than usual bald eagle counts, and many southern states having lower counts.

"During mild winters, bald eagles seem to overwinter farther north and remain more dispersed than during cold winters," Millsap said.

This year's survey found bald eagle populations in Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota and Wisconsin. It found decreases in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida and Texas.

The largest population was in Washington state, with 1,150 birds; next largest was Utah with 1,042, followed by Florida (884) and Idaho (644).

The National Wildlife Federation, whose logo features a bald eagle in flight, has long been associated with eagle protection. The Federation offers $500 for information leading to the conviction of anyone who illegally kills a bald eagle.

The Federation's Raptor Information Center also conducts the annual Chesapeake Bay Bald Eagle Banding Project in which all known nestlings in the Bay area are banded and color-marked. According to this year's project, 114 young eaglets survived to leave the nest, compared to 55 in 1978.

Bulldog cagers open pre-season Monday

Coch Bob Boyd and his Mississippi State Basketball Bulldogs are growing in anticipation over their public unveiling in the hoop sport on Nov. 7 at Tupelo High School and over the season opener, which is less than a month from now.

Practices have been fruit ful, and the Bulldog coach has seen some improvement in the skidstone injuries to projected starters Butch Pierre at guard and Jeff Wulff at center.

Pierre, a 6-3, 190-pound guard from Darrow, La., is already State's fifth-leading career assist man with 267 in three campaigns, and needs 58 to pass three-time All-SEC choice Ray White for fourth position.

Wulff, a 6-8, 225-pound junior from Orange, Calif., via Cypress (Calif.) Junior College, has been putting in overtime on the therapeutic routine in hopes of getting ready to play in 1983-84.

Both leg injuries occurred in the players' hometowns prior to 1983-84 drills, but practice has otherwise been geared toward fundamentals and the installation of State's leading plan for 1983-84.

Coach Bob Boyd's Bulldogs are looking for a strong start in the 1983-84 season.

becoming even more solid rebounders and scorers in the early going.

Coch Boyd indicated that 6-3 freshman Tracy Taylor of Macon (Ga.) Southwest High School might be the best yearling among the crop of seven signees (two juco transfers) while junior Ken Harvey (6-5, 220 pounds) of Washington, D.C., via Lardo (TX) JC has shown promise at the big guard slot.

Still, the team knows that much polish is needed before the preseason slate begins Monday at Tupelo, then moves to Greenwood on Tuesday, Nov. 15, for a fish fry-intrasquad night at the Greenwood-Leflore Civic Center, and ends out-of-town activity at Meridian HS on Monday, Nov. 21.

"We want to put a team on the court which is efficient," Boyd noted. "Ideally, we would like to shoot a high percentage at the foul line, limit our turnovers to a minimum, have good selection on shots, and be able to play some extended defenses with good scoring balance in the lineup."

Those are the keys to any winning season, and the 18-year Division I head coach hopes to refine the variables in the coming weeks.

Appreciable amounts of calcium, phosphorus, potassium, iron and magnesium are found in peanuts.

Wildcats to close losing season against Holmes

Pearl River College and Holmes Junior College will end their 1983 season in Poplarville Saturday in the Dobie Holden Stadium.

A little less than two years ago the same two teams were meeting for the 1981 Mississippi Junior College championship. This coming Saturday the Wildcats and Bulldogs will be playing for pride and self-respect, but certainly not post season honors.

The PRC Wildcats already have a 3-5-1 ledger and are assured of a losing season. For only the third time since 1945 the Bulldogs are not much better off, however, a win would put their mark at 5-5.

This past week the Wildcats lost to the Co-Lin Wolves 24-7, while Holmes was winning its third in a row with a 32-0 shutout of Coahoma.

"Holmes has really improved," said J. C. Arban, the Wildcats' head coach. "They beat East Mississippi 19-9 last week and Itawamba 42-0 the week before."

"We are really hobbled up," Arban said. "We have at least 20 players nursing some type of injury at this time." This past week running back Bryan Maxie suffered a concussion and Kevin Alford injured his ankle and linebacker Tommy Hillman injured his shoulder.

"I hope we will all give 110 percent this week," Arban said. "It sure would be nice to end the season with a win."

"Captains for this week are Luther Greer of Picayune, Donald Kittrell of North Forrest, Perry Martin of Lumberton and Leo Watts of Hattiesburg.

Outstanding players during the Co-Lin game last week included Greer for special teams, L. C. Hopkins of Hattiesburg, offensive back; Mark Glover of Satsuma, Ala., offensive line; Richard Lofton of Bassfield, defensive line and John Henry of Poplarville, defensive back of the week.

CO-LIN LUMPS

In 24 previous seasons as a head football coach, Arban has sat through only one losing campaign.

Saturday night, the 1983 Pearl River College football team assured itself of becoming the second Arban-coached team to suffer through a sub-par campaign.

Playing the overpowering Copiah-Lincoln Wolves in Summit Saturday night, the Wildcats went down to a 24-7 South Division defeat, meaning the best the Wildcats can do this year is post a 4-5-1 overall record.

It will take a PRC win over North Division foe Holmes at Dobie Holden Stadium to prevent the 1983 Wildcats from becoming the worst team in Arban's 25-year coaching career.

Playing for fifth place honors in the South Division here, Co-Lin scored a pair of third-quarter touchdowns in a span of 1:03 to send the Wildcats home with their fifth loss of the year.

After taking a 7-0 lead on the first of two touchdown runs by Dwayne Harrington with 2:46 left before the intermission, the Wolves erupted to take a 14-0 lead when quarterback Ricky Barnett connected with Robert McDuffie on a 54-yard pass play.

One play after the ensuing kickoff, Co-Lin's Kenneth Smith recovered a PRC fumble at the Wildcats 4-yard line. Harrington, who banged his way into the end zone on a 1-yard plunge in the first half, needed only one play to put the nail in the coffin with a 4-yard run.

Harrington finished the night with a game-high 102 yards on 23 rushing attempts.

PRC's only score came on a 41-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Darren Brock to L. C. Hopkins. Brock's scoring pass came after the Wolves turned the ball over to the Wildcats when a punt bounced off the back of a Co-Lin player. The Wolves, 6-3 overall and 3-3 in South Division play, led the game on Kevin Beasley's 30 yard field goal with 7:20 left in the game. Beasley also picked up three more points by converting on three Co-Lin extra point kicks. Relying on an abundance of size in the trenches, the Wolves rolled up 320 yards in total offense, while limiting the Wildcats to a mere 20 yards on the ground and 165 yards in total offense. Freshmen John Henry, a former standout at Poplarville High School, led PRC's defensive charge here Saturday night by recovering a fumble and intercepting a pass for the third week in a row.

LEGAL BRIEFS

Trial By Jury Gives Better Justice For All

By David S. Shrager
President
Association of Trial Lawyers of America

At the heart and core of the American system of justice lies the right to trial by jury in civil actions. It is a right which has persisted through the centuries and reached its legal maturity in this country as an institution central to the dispensation of justice.

The American jury has provided an important safety valve for American society. It lifts our best dispute-resolving institutions above politics, ambition, favor, and corruption without putting them beyond the reach of the people.

But the jury system is now the subject of rising criticism from those forces in the private sector who do not wish to be called to the Bar of Justice by a jury of average people off the street who can demand an accounting for the infringement of the rights of an individual.

More ominous still is the criticism by a certain few high judicial office holders who challenge the jury as an unnecessary, expensive, and rather inefficient vehicle for the dispensation of justice, especially in "complex" cases. These critics fail to understand that the courts exist for the benefit of the litigants and not the other way around. They equate speed with justice. These critics also neglect to volunteer that only a small percentage of cases actually go to a jury verdict, but that the availability of this vehicle for dispute resolution acts as the catalyst to settlement.

The debate on trial by jury has largely been waged in a vacuum. The only real experts, the jurors themselves, are heard from almost never. This nameless and faceless crowd of citizens who are called upon daily to engage in the finest form of participatory democracy are not and cannot be organized into a consumer group in support of the system.

The jury system works because the vast majority of those who are really involved know and believe that it works—the judges, the jurors, and the attorneys.

When the jury renders its verdict, it gives justice to winner and loser alike. More importantly, it gives justice, each time, to all of American society. The sum of its contributions to the legal system protects and nurtures our whole way of life.

—The American jury gives better justice to us all.

Pass youth nominated in U.S.-Japan program

Alan Dedeaux, a junior at Pass Christian High School, has been selected to represent the school in the Japan-United States Senate Scholarship Program.

As the school's nominee, Dedeaux will compete with other Mississippi students for two scholarship appointments to be named by U.S. senators. The student exchange program funded by the government of Japan, stresses family living experience and provides winning students with a two-month stay with a volunteer Japanese family.

The nominee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Dedeaux. Each year at PCHS Alan Dedeaux has been elected class president and served on the Student Council.

A Beta Club member, Dedeaux has consistently been on the Superintendent's Honor Roll. Dedeaux is a member of the Drama, French, and Science Clubs.

In his sophomore year, Dedeaux was elected a class favorite in the 'Who's Who' contest.

He has also played football and baseball every year. He received the Physical Education Award in the ninth and 10th grades and the Driver's Education Award last year.

Dedeaux has been a Children's International Summer Village member for four years and is a member of St. Stephen's Catholic Youth Organization.

"The remaining $500 will be given at the beginning of the spring semester, provided the recipient has completed at least 12 semester hours with a grade-point-average of at least 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale)," Hickson adds.

He says announcement of 1984-85 year winners will be made Feb. 24 during spring semester "Discovery: MSU" activities.

Additional information and application forms may be obtained by writing in care of the Catledge Scholarship Committee, Department of Communication, Drawer PF, Mississippi State, Miss. 39762, or by telephoning (601) 325-3320.

Bay woman awarded academic scholarship

Agnes Scott College senior Cheryl Ann Carlson of Bay St. Louis has been awarded a Charles A. Dana Scholarship for the 1983-84 school year.

She has also been named to the college honor roll for her superior academic work during the 1982-83 session.

These two announcements were made during the recent Honors Day Convocation at Agnes Scott College, a women's liberal arts college in Decatur, Ga.

The student is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Carlson of 46 Montezuma Avenue in Bay St. Louis and a graduate of Bay Senior High School and is majoring in economics and English.

Dana scholarships are awarded to sophomores on the basis of potential in scholarship and leadership, and to juniors and seniors on the basis of academic achievement and demonstrated leadership in college activities.

Inaugurated at Agnes Scott in 1970, the scholarships are sponsored by the Charles A. Dana Foundation of Bridgeport, Conn.

To be named to the honor roll at Agnes Scott, freshmen must attain, on a scale of 3.0, an average of at least 2.3; sophomores and juniors an average of 2.5 and seniors an average of 2.7.

Ladner, Depreo attend confab

Mary Ellen Ladner of Diamondhead Clinic and Patricia Depreo of the Gulfport Surgical Clinic recently attended the 27th Annual Convention of the American Association of Medical Assistants in New York City at The Sheraton Center.

Several hundred medical assisting practitioners, educators and students attended the week-long meeting. Educational and organizational sessions dominated the program, with topics including diagnostic technologies, computer applications in medical assisting education, current drug research, and long-range planning for the association.

The association is a 'not-for-profit' organization composed of receptionists, secretaries, clinical assistants, laboratory technicians, office managers and other allied health experts who work in physicians' offices and other medical settings.

AAMA has 14,000 members in 47 state societies, with more than 500 chapters nationwide. It was founded in 1956 in Kansas City, Kan.

Group President Janet M. Hensinger of Versailles, Ky. assumed office as AAMA's 28th president, succeeding Betty Mays of Phoenix, Ariz. who headed the organization during the 1982-83 year.

U.S. Constitution is subject of Voice of Democracy contest

David Cummins, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of District No. 1 and Mary Fedele, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, report this year's theme of the 37th annual Voice of Democracy contest is "My Role in Upholding

Our Constitution." "All 10th, 11th and 12th grade students in public, parochial and private schools in our area are eligible to participate in this national script-writing program designed to give these high school students the opportunity to voice their opinions on their responsibility to our country and to convey their thoughts via the broadcasting media to all America," Fedele said. Some of the fringe benefits, according to Cummins and Fedele, are increased self-confidence and praise, experience in communicating with others and valuable training in self-expression. The state winner will receive $2,000 plus a five-day tour of Washington, D.C. Second place state winner will receive $1,200 and the third place state winner will receive $800.

The sponsoring teachers will receive $250, $150 and $100.

From among the state winners, six national winners are chosen to receive a total of $32,500 in scholarships.

Deadline for school competition is Nov. 30. For further information phone or contact the VFW Post near your home or District 1 chairpersons Bruce Keibel at 392-4411 or Lorraine Santo at 863-4740, Fedele noted.

A Ph.D. program in financial economics at the University of New Orleans has been unanimously approved by the Louisiana Board of Regents. The new program will be offered at UNO beginning in the Fall, 1984 semester, according to UNO Acting Chancellor Cooper R. Mackin.

UNO's Ph.D. in financial economics will bring together contemporary economic theory with financial analysis. It is, says Dr. Mackin, a unique program in that it represents a blending of these allied disciplines which are usually treated separately.

Specializations include international financial economics, monetary theory and financial institutions, urban financial economics and an interdisciplinary track.

SPECIAL MULTI-PERIL...
In an age when strict economy is the guiding principle of most business concerns, the SPECIAL MULTI-PERIL package makes a lot of sense. The SMP represents a strong foundation of protection against the major perils common to most businesses. From there it offers a vast range of optional coverages and features so that each policy may be custom designed to your particular exposure. And because it comes as a complete package of protection, SMP is available at substantial savings over a collection of individual policies. If you make the insurance buying decisions for your company, call us today and find out how easy and sensible it is to put an SMP in force. ## Impounding vehicles offered as more effective alternative to suspending driver's license in DWI cases

The drive to eliminate drunk drivers in Mississippi needs to focus more on people's attitudes and emotional maturity rather than simply teaching factual information, says Dr. Richard Boyd, assistant professor of Health and Safety at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Although the national organization entitled Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) initiated the campaign against driving while intoxicated, Mississippi was the first state to begin a crackdown of DUI offenders, said Ed Jussely, public relations director for the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

Since the beginning of the campaign over two years ago, drunk driving arrests have doubled, and a total of 2,133 offenders were arrested in the state during July of 1983. In August alone, 2,743 drunk drivers were arrested. Jussely contributes the increase of arrests to better awareness from members of the patrol and the reporting of offenders by the public.

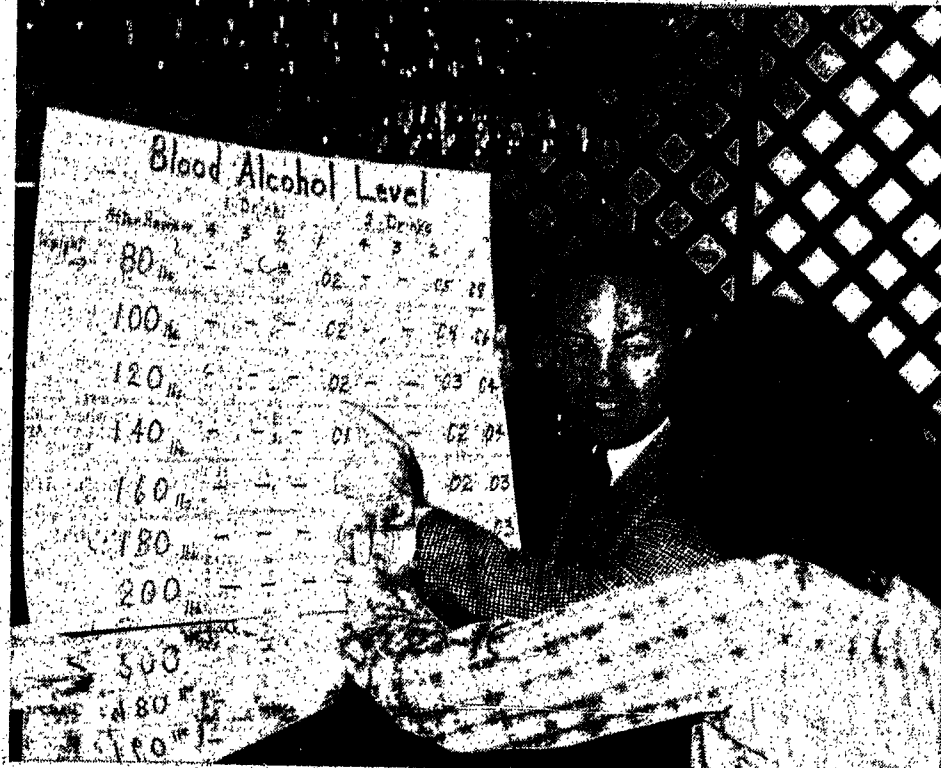

Because individuals and organizations around the state are becoming more aware of the dangers of drinking while driving, demands for alternative solutions have become a major issue. Boyd has developed one alternative he believes will help decrease the number of drunk driving offenders.

The alternative is an inventory called the Revised Hoffman Inventory of Emotional Maturity and was first developed in 1947 by a former professor of Boyd's at the University of Illinois. The inventory consists of 26 items which, among them, can determine impulsiveness, aggressiveness, egocentricity and carelessness. Boyd administered the questionnaire to 326 people between the ages of 25 and 34 in 1981.

"Generally, what I found is that law violators and people who have been in alcohol related motor vehicle accidents score low on test of emotional maturity," said would urge that Congress pass such a measure and call for mandatory jail terms or license suspensions for people caught violating it. But Boyd has serious reservations whether license suspension for drinking while driving offenders would help solve the problem, and thinks that the impounding of vehicles would be a more effective measure.

BLOOD LEVEL ALCOHOL—Dr. Richard Boyd, assistant professor of Health and Safety at the University of Southern Mississippi, explains to a Hattiesburg resident how the chart on Blood Alcohol Level works. Boyd, who has been researching an alternative solution for drunk driving offenders, administered a questionnaire in 1981 to people between the ages of 25 and 34. He hopes to organize a future class that would focus more on people's attitudes and emotional maturity rather than simply teaching factual information to drunk driving offenders.

Boyd.

"The utilization of this instrument alone would not totally solve the problem," Boyd said, "but by applying it, other solutions would be helpful." According to an Associated Press report, a presidential panel on drunk driving is likely to endorse a national drinking age of 21 and stiff penalties for violators as another alternative to the national problem.

Eugene V. Lipp, the group's executive director, said that the final report probably

JAPANESE ART

The New Orleans Museum of Art will present an important exhibition entitled 'A Myriad of Autumn Leaves: Japanese Art from the Kurt and Millie Gitter Collection' from Nov. 13 through Jan. 15. The exhibition is made possible by a grant from SCM Corporation.

The sense of beauty characteristic of the Japanese, as expressed in such concepts as miyabi (refined elegance) and mono no aware (pathos of nature), suggests a world of aesthetic and emotional harmony, a preference for internal grace rather than external splendor. This world of aesthetic and emotional harmony is reflected in the exhibition, A Myriad of Autumn leaves.

The Gitter Collection, recognized as one of America's finest private collections of Edo period (1615-1868) art, surveys the entire range of Edo painting, known for its diversity and artistic richness.

Twelve prizes will be awarded. First, second and third place winners will be chosen in each of the following categories: eighth grade girls, eighth grade boys, tenth grade girls and tenth grade boys. Prizes will be first place, $25; second place, $15; and third place, $10.

Additionally, all four first place winners will be invited to come to Jackson in mid-December to tape a television

Leech endows Foundation

D.C. Leech, a 1925 alumnus of the University of Southern Mississippi, donated $100,000 to the USM Foundation to establish the Pearl Reynolds Leech Scholarship endowed in memory of his wife.

Leech's wife received a bachelor's degree from the University of Mississippi and a master's degree from the George Peabody Teachers College. She taught in the public schools in Mississippi for 40 years including 20 years with what was then called the Demonstration School at USM. Her ability in teaching and involvement in community affairs were widely recognized.

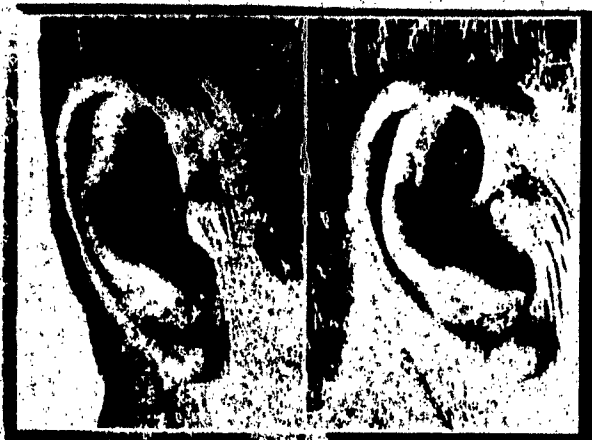

Leech presented the endowment at the Foundations meeting held Friday evening at the USM commons. While attending USM, he was president of the student body and served in the Mississippi Legislature.

He was superintendent of schools for 15 years and became a publisher representative until retirement. He played USM football in 1923-24 and inducted into the USM Hall of Fame April 28, 1973.

Leech served as USM Alumni president for eight years.

'Love, Sex and the IRS' lights up playhouse

By NAN PATTON
EHRBRIGHT

Area residents may celebrate Halloween this year with costume parties, spook houses or, thanks to the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, the most horrifying spectre of all, to the American taxpayer—a visit from the Internal Revenue Service.

"Love, Sex and the IRS" is played strictly for laughs, but disgruntled taxpayers who may have flirted with the temptation of fudging on their own income tax returns may feel a twinge of "There but for the grace of God..." as they watch the hilarious results of one man's efforts to cheat Uncle Sam.

Director Sherry Schwabacher has gathered an ensemble of talent for this final production of the 1983 season.

The play opened Friday at the playhouse on Boardman Avenue for a four-day run at 8:15 p.m. on Oct. 28, 29 and Nov. 4 and 5.

Tickets, available at the door, are $4. Audiences will get their money's worth, and more.

The resourceful culprit who starts the nonsense by stating on his tax return that he is married is artfully brought to life by Chris Feuilleade. Feuilleade, who makes his debut on the American stage in this production, is graceful, relaxed and quite at home in his role as Jon.

I particularly noted the naturalness of Feuilleade's gestures, often a difficulty on the "amateur" stage.

Dick Boice of Long Beach plays Jon's roommate Leslie, forced to play out a charade as Jon's "wife" first for an IRS auditor, and subsequently for Jon's mother.

Director Schwabacher advises that Boice took over the role of Leslie only two weeks ago. Although he seemed slightly shaky in the beginning scene of the dress rehearsal I attended, he soon seized and maintained control.

I found myself bobbing in my seat with pleasure during the scenes when the jittery Leslie jumped around the stage.

The nervous snort which he emitted to display nervousness reminded me of Felix Unger's sinus-clearing in "The Odd Couple" and, frankly, I preferred his rendition to either Jack Lemmon's or Tony Randall's.

As Kate, Jon's fiancée and at least temporarily also enamoured of Leslie (as a male, that is), Claudia Murphy was attractive and believably sensible but confused as the situation progressed from worrisome to absurd.

Enter Mr. Spinner of the IRS, who wonders why Leslie used to mark "male" on his tax returns.

Spinner, played by Edgar Perez, also wonders, frequently and loudly, why Jon is married to such an ugly woman as Leslie when the lovely Kate seems to be so available.

If Perez tires of his current career, he might do well elsewhere. His portrayal of a typical dull, stodgy, not-too-bright bookkeeper is just what the government seems to order up regularly. Even his perfunctory passes at Kate seem appropriately geared to the bureaucratic level.

Alice Holmes plays Jon's mother who drops in unexpectedly to help plan Jon's wedding, and sticks around to get soured after she meets the not-all-all-bridal Leslie.

Holmes' performance was, in three words: fun, funnier, funniest.

Three smaller roles were played not small at all by Stewart Nelson as Jon's and Leslie's nosy and obnoxious landlord, Cyndy Rentz as Leslie's worried girlfriend, and Ed Craig as a justice of the peace.

Rentz and Craig are regulars on the Bay St. Louis stage, and deservedly so. Nelson is a newcomer whom audiences will want to see again.

The attractive set was designed by Tim Bourgeois and Christin Franckiewicz. It is bright and spacious but would, I felt, have benefitted from more clutter to establish it as a typical bachelor pad.

"Love, Sex and the IRS" was written for dinner theatre production by two actors: William Van Zandt and Jane Milmore.

The script itself is not a great one, but it is amusing, lively and a good vehicle for both actors and theatre-goers.

This reviewer is convinced that audience reaction will spark the cast and perfect their performances both individually and collectively.

The actors onstage have a good time with "Love, Sex and the IRS." Audiences will, too.

Poplarville; Mae Lang Lowe, graduate of East Marion High, football maid; Ms. Regan; Gidget Necaise, a graduate of Hancock North Central; Karen Ladner of Bay St. Louis and Elizabeth Higley of Pearl River, La., freshman maids.

Waveland Little Theatre Offers "The Murder Room"

Now, really—if your wife came home one evening and said she'd been at a church meeting, but the minister had called hours ago to say the meeting had been cancelled, who would you believe: your wife or your minister?

Making the wrong choice leads to marital disaster for Edgar Hollister and his wife Mavis in Waveland Little Theatre's forthcoming production of "The Murder Room."

The resulting hijinks, however, means an evening of hilarity for the audience.

Playwright Jack Sharkey has assembled a septet of sillies as characters for the mystery-farce which opens Thursday, Nov. 10 at the Bay Theatre at the corner of Beach Boulevard and Washington Street in Bay St. Louis.

Edgar Hollister, owner of a small estate in Yorkshire, is a typically stuffy Englishman with one suspects, an IQ that is not much above room temperature.

Mavis is Edgar's second wife. Feminine, flirtatious and foxy in the old-fashioned sense of the word, she is obviously not the type to devote a great deal of time to church work.

Susan, Edgar's daughter from a prior marriage, has been going to school in "the States," and returns home with her American finance Barry Draper to discover that her father has disappeared.

Inspector James Crandall and Constable Abel Howard are dispatched to sort things out. Has Edgar met with foul play, or simply absentmindedly strayed from home?

Housekeeper Lottie Molloy is sure her master's been "done in," and also suspects Mavis is trying to "do" Susan "out" of her father's inheritance.

Dick Ehrbright (Edgar) makes his Waveland Little Theatre debut in "The Murder Room." He has previously appeared in community theatre productions in Jackson Hole, Wyoming and in Hammond and Bogalusa, Louisiana.

Susan Smith Stevens (Mavis) was last seen in the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre production of "Bye Bye Birdie." Active with both theatre groups, she also appeared in "Of Thee I Sing" and was the helpless blind heroine in "Deadwood Dick."

Lorelei Ling (Susan) goes onstage for the first time ever in "The Murder Room," but both genes and environment inevitably led to this—both her mother and her father are active in community theatre.

Thomas Worrel (Barry) is also a relative newcomer to theatre. His first performance was part of "Variety '83."

Frank Gray (Inspector Crandall) has appeared onstage both in Waveland and Bay St. Louis. In Waveland, he played Nathan Detroit in "Guys and Dolls" and had the last in "Young Dracula."

Patrick Neely's last appearance on stage was some years ago in "Night of January 16th." Incidentally, Neely is the only member of the cast who comes by his "Murder Room" accent naturally.

Edith Bierhorst Back is gaining a reputation locally as "maid of all seasons." Her roles include the slovenly Jezebel in "Murder in the Magnolias" and the hatchet-swinging temperance crusader in "Deadwood Dick."

Director of "The Murder Room" is Ted Stechmann. Active in theatre since the age of 15 when he began acting with the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, Stechmann directed "Deadwood Dick," "Our Town" and "Young Dracula" for Waveland Little Theatre.

The production crew includes Perry Berens and Kelvin Schultz, sets; Dottie Overall, properties and programs; Derek Stechmann, Daren Stechmann and Joe Minas, lights; Dick Fitch, sound; Perry Berens, stage manager; Meta Garside, the door.

Edith Bierhorst Back and Nan Patton Ehrbright, publicity; Lori Berens, script; Dottie Overall and Lori Garside, posters; and Betty Stechmann and Meta Garside, ticket sales. Dottie Overall is producer.

"The Murder Room" will be presented one weekend only, Nov. 10, 11 and 12. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. Tickets are $4, available at the door.

Ordinance No. 150 FLOODPLAIN MANAGEMENT ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF WYVAND

ARTICLE 1. Statutory Authorization, Findings of Fact, Purpose, and Objectives

SECTION A. Statutory Authorization

The Legislature of the State of Mississippi has in Title 17, Chapter 1, of the Mississippi Code of 1972 delegated the responsibility to local governmental units to adopt regulations designed to promote the public health, safety, and general welfare of its citizenry. Therefore be it ordained by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the City of Waveland, Mississippi:

SECTION B. Findings of Fact

(1) The flood hazard areas of the City of Waveland are subject to periodic inundation which results in loss of life, property, health and safety hazards, disruption of commerce and governmental services, extraordinary public expenditures for flood protection and relief, and impairment of the tax base, all of which adversely affect the public health, safety and general welfare.

(2) These flood losses are caused by the cumulative effect of obstructions in floodplains causing increases in flood heights and velocities, and by the occupancy in flood hazard areas by uses vulnerable to floods or hazardous to other lands which are inadequately elevated or protected from flood damage.

SECTION C. Statement of Purpose

It is the purpose of this ordinance to promote the public health, safety, and general welfare and to minimize public and private losses due to flood conditions in specific areas by provisions designed to:

(1) Restrict or prohibit uses which are dangerous to health, safety and property due to erosion or erosion or in flood heights and velocities.

(2) Require that uses vulnerable to floods, including facilities which serve the public, be protected against flood damage at the time of initial construction.

(3) Control the alteration of natural features, stream channels, and natural protective barriers, which are involved in the accommodation of flood waters.

(4) Control filling, grading, dredging and other development which may increase erosion or flood damage.

(5) Prevent or regulate the construction of flood barriers which will unreasonably divert flood waters or which may increase flood hazards to other lands.

SECTION D. Objectives

The objectives of this ordinance are:

(1) to protect human life and health;

(2) to minimize expenditure of public money for costly flood control projects;

(3) to minimize the need for rescue and relief efforts associated with flooding and generally undertaken at the expense of the general public;

(4) to minimize prolonged business interruptions;

(5) to minimize damage to public facilities and utilities such as water and sewer lines, streets and bridges located in floodplains;

(6) to help maintain a stable tax base by providing for the sound use and development of flood prone areas in such a manner as to minimize future flood light and areas;

(7) to insure that potential home buyers are notified that property is in a flood area.

Unless specifically defined below, words or phrases used in this ordinance shall be interpreted so as to give them the meaning which they have in common usage, and to give this ordinance its most reasonable application.
